SOVIET AIDE SEES ACCORD IN SUEZ ROW

Du Pont's Still in Picture!

The big Du Pont corporation of Wilmington, Del., which announced last June 20 that it was planning construction of a paint plant 3 1/2 miles northwest of Washington C. H. might begin building operations in the spring—or actual construction might be a year or two away.

But Tom Mark, president of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, has Du Pont's assurance that the taking of options on a 67-acre tract at the junction of Route 35 and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad was "in good faith" and that plans for factory building are in the preliminary drafting stage.

Mark returned home Tuesday night from a vacation trip which took him to Du Pont's home city and resulted in a conference with several officials of the corporation, including Robert J. Bulkley Jr., of Du Pont's public relations department; Walter Matlage, assistant general manager of the fabrics and finishes division, and Philip Olin, departmental engineer who selected the Union Township site.

WHILE NO construction can be started until directors of the big corporation give the signal—certainly not before spring and possibly much later—Mark learned the following:

(1) That the plant will manufacture automobile paint which is regarded as a "depression-proof"

branch of the mighty Du Pont industrial empire;

(2) That a two-level brick building covering much of the 67 acres is probable;

(3) That the plant will employ approximately 100 people, all of them local with the exception of about six key men including a plant manager;

(4) That local people will be employed in construction of the building since Du Pont has its own general contractor who employs the labor and handles all subcontracting;

(5) That the Fayette County site was selected because of central location in Du Pont's distribution plans, its proximity to rail transportation, its topography, its adequate water supply and because Du Pont contact men liked the Washington C. H. community generally.

THE FAYETTE COUNTY site, which has a 3,300 foot frontage on Route 35 and is bounded by both the B & O and Bush Rd., owned by the Fuels and Campbell heirs. Actual transfer of the property to Du Pont awaits confirmation by the Union Township Board of Trustees of the township zoning board's recommendation that the tract be rezoned from an agricultural-residential classification to an industrial classification.

U. N. Council Books Debate For Friday

Dulles Indicates U. S. To Be 'Independent' Of British, French

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, arriving today for the U. N. Security Council debate on the Suez Canal, declared he is "deeply convinced we shall be able to find a reasonable solution to the problems troubling us."

The Soviet foreign minister said this could be achieved "through negotiations on a basis of equality and fairness, and by means of a correct combination of the interests of Egypt as a sovereign state, and the interests of all other states using the canal."

Shepilov and six other foreign ministers, including Egypt's Mahmoud Fawzi, will take part in the Council debate opening Friday. Egypt is not a member of the 11-nation council but was invited to participate as an interested party.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles apparently is charting a course "somewhat independent" from that of Britain and France in the Suez dispute.

His purpose seems to be to show the peoples of Asia and Africa that this country is not 100 per cent identified with Britain and France on the issue of colonialism, although the exact extent of differences over Suez is not clear.

THEIR SCOPE was clouded by chances in wording Dulles made after discussing Suez policy Tuesday.

He seemed in effect to be saying there are elements of the colonialism problem in the Suez situation although the United States, Britain and France stand together on the main issue by insisting on international operation of the canal which Egypt seized in July.

Dulles himself brought up colonialism when asked about reports of a split between the United States and its British and French allies in organizing a users' association of nations whose ships depend on canal passage.

While denying there had been any basic change in that concept, Dulles said there is some difference in approach to the Suez problem.

That difference relates to rather fundamental things, he declared. He drew a distinction then between cooperation among the United States, Britain and France under the North Atlantic Treaty and their policies in other areas on problems which he said involve colonialism.

New Wheat Ruling Made By Ag Agency

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today farmers may make final agreements on winter wheat acreage after they have received their allotments on other crops.

Walter E. Sollars, chairman of the committee, said the Department of Agriculture took the action to permit winter wheat producers who have allotments on other crops, or a soil bank corn base acreage, to make their final decision after all allotments or the corn base acreage information for 1957 is available to them.

For these producers, he said, the deadline for cancellation or revision of the 1957 winter wheat agreements will be 15 days after the mailing of the farmer's last official notice of a farm allotment from the county stabilization and conservation office.

He said many farmers have been reluctant to put land in the wheat acreage reserve before knowing the effect of other allotments on their farm operation.

Farmers who have only wheat allotments applicable to their farms may cancel or revise their previously signed wheat acreage reserve agreements through Friday.

Under previous regulations, wheat acreage reserve agreements for 1957 could not be cancelled once signed by farmers.

Brooklyn Defeats Yankees In First Game of World Series

Here Were Starting Pitchers

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the New York Yankees, 6-3, in the first game of the 1956 World Series here today.

BROOKLYN (AP)—Gil Hodges drove a home run into the left field stands with Peeewe Reese and Duke Snider on base in the third inning and sent the Dodgers into a 5-2 lead over the Yankees after three innings of the opening game of the World Series.

First score came as Mickey Mantle smashed a home run with Enos Slaughter on base in the first half of the first inning.

The Dodgers were three up and three down in their half of the first frame. And after the Yankees went down one, two three in the second, Brooklyn came back with two runs to knot the count at 2-2.

BULLETIN

Yankees: Bauer grounded out. Slaughter singled. Mantle hit a home run, scoring Slaughter. Berra walked. Skowron and McDougald struck out. Two runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Dodgers: Gilliam bounced out. Reese lined out. Snider rolled out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning

Yankees: Martin fouled out. Carey and Ford were struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Dodgers: Robinson smashed a line home run into the lower left field stands. Hodges singled. Furillo doubled, scoring Hodges with the tying run. Campanella flied out. So did Amoroso. Maglie struck out. Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left.

Third Inning

Yankees: Bauer and Slaughter singled. Mantle struck out. Berra popped out. Skowron forced Slaughter at second. No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

Dodgers: Gilliam popped out. Reese singled. So did Snider. Robinson lined out. Hodges hit a home run into the lower left field stands, scoring Reese and Snider ahead of him, to put the Dodgers in front 5-2. Furillo flied out. Three runs, three hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning

Yankees: McDougald flied out. Martin hit a home run into the lower left field stands. Carey flied out. George Wilson, batted for Ford and struck out. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Dodgers: Kucks went to the mound for the Yankees. Campanella doubled. Amoroso singled, scoring Campanella. Maglie bunted in.

Careless Flying Laid to Actor

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Actor Steve Cochran faces a Municipal Court arraignment Friday on a charge of careless flying.

The complaint was filed Tuesday by two Los Angeles police helicopter patrol officers who said they saw the actor dive his light plane to about 100 feet over his Beverly Hills home last Wednesday.

Adlai Contends Eisenhower Shows Laxity on Vital Issue

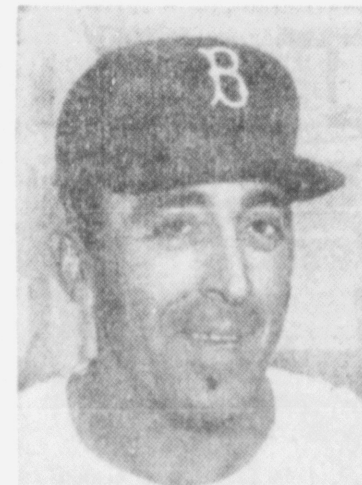

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson declared today that on some "vital matters" it has appeared that President Eisenhower "has not known or has not cared" what went on in his administration.

The Democratic presidential nominee cited congressional failure to enact legislation for the relief of areas of acute unemployment distress. He said this legislation was "knifed in the back by the Republican administration."

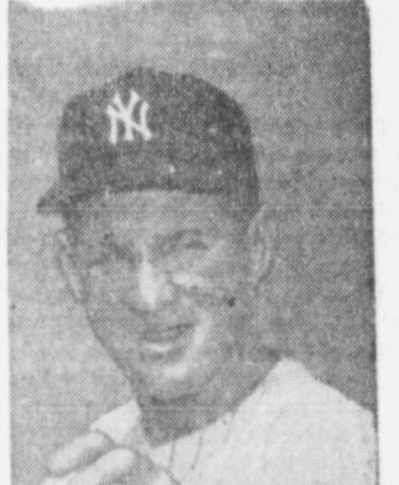

Stevenson let loose this criticism of his Republican opponent in an address prepared for delivery here. It was one of a series of 10 talks aimed at the capture of Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes.

Stevenson charged that the administration not only rejected a distressed areas bill by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) and Rep. Blood (D-Pa.) but "refused even to consider the administration bill" originally proposed by the President.

A week after Congress adjourned, Stevenson continued, the President was asked at a news conference why the Republicans refused to back the legislation. He quoted Eisenhower:

SAL MAGLIE (DODGERS)

WHITEY FORD (YANKS)

to a double play. Gilliam reached first on an error, then stole second. Reese struck out. One run, two hits, one error, one left.

Fifth Inning

Yankees: Bauer singled. Slaughter popped out. Mantle walked. Berra flied out. So did Skowron. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Dodgers: Snider lined out. So did Robinson. Hodges bounced out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning

Yankees: McDougald fanned. Martin popped out. Carey singled. Bob Cerv batted for Kucks and singled. Bauer popped out. No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

Dodgers: Morgan became the third Yankee pitcher. Furillo grounded out. Campanella lined out. Amoroso flied out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Here is the way things line up for the balance of the series:

Second game, Thursday, Ebbets Field; third game, Friday, Yankee Stadium; fourth game, Saturday, Yankee Stadium; fifth game (if necessary), Sunday, Yankee Stadium; sixth game (if necessary), Monday, Ebbets Field; seventh game (if necessary), Tuesday, Ebbets Field.

Starting time—Noon EST daily except Sunday when will start at 1:05 p. m. EST.

Television—Coast to coast NBC. Radio—Coast to coast MBS. Odds: Yankees 3-2 favorites.

Postponement sites—In case of weather postponement, teams will play at original site next day; games 1 and 2 must be played at Ebbets Field, 3, 4, 5, at Yankee Stadium, and 6 and 7 (if necessary) at Ebbets Field.

Peeewe Reese, Brooklyn's veteran shortstop, probably will feel lonesome out there without Phil Rizzuto as an opponent.

Reese and Rizzuto began their World Series rivalry in 1941, playing opposing shortstop in six series after that, but Rizzuto has been cast out by the Yankees and will attend the 1956 show as a spectator.

The nomination of Don Newcombe (Brooklyn) and Don Larsen (Yankees) to pitch the second game sent Figure Filberts rushing to the record books.

Is this the first time two pitchers named "Don" opposed each other as pitchers in the second game of the World Series? — a question as vital as that of the first lefthanded home run over the safety razor sign at 5:48 p. m.

The Voice of America will broadcast a delayed play-by-play description of the series in Japanese to the 20 million baseball fans in Japan. This should be interesting. How do you describe a Chinese home run in Japanese?

Ike Is Only A Baseball Fan Today

BROOKLYN (AP)—President Eisenhower for the moment more baseball fan than President or politician, today attended his first World Series game.

Every spring since 1953, Eisenhower has been attending the opening game of the season at the Washington Senators' ballpark.

This time he tried his hand at tossing the first ball as the Brooklyn Dodgers started defending their world championship against the New York Yankees in Ebbets Field here.

A ceremony was set up at home plate to let the bigwigs of baseball welcome the chief executive and permit the rival managers to introduce their squads.

Eisenhower's flight to New York for the series opener was billed as a nonpolitical trip. No other candidates were invited to confer with him and no political speeches were on tap.

But Eisenhower wasn't passing up the chance to smile and wave at anybody in Queens and Brooklyn who wanted to see him as he rode from the airport to the ball-field and back again.

The White House took care to outline in advance Eisenhower's exact route in New York — every twist and turn — and it picked a longer and different route for the return trip to LaGuardia Airport.

Eisenhower invited half his Cabinet to fly up with him and sit in his box at the ball game. The five were Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, Postmaster General Summerfield and Secretary of Welfare Folsom.

$2 Million Estate Is Ruled Invalid

CINCINNATI (AP)—The will of industrialist Walter Schott, which provided for $2 million to go to Roman Catholic charities, was declared invalid Tuesday by Probate Judge Chase M. Davies.

The ruling was based on an Ohio law providing that a will, which includes charitable bequests, must be drawn at least a year before death if any children survive. Schott died last April 9—less than a month short of the required year period. His widow and children will share in the estate.

Bricker Linked To Rail Dispute

Attorney Denies Solon Got Lush Legal Fees

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A lawyer for the trucking industry said Tuesday Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) was "regularly carried on the Pennsylvania Railroad payroll" and received from it more than $100,000 in three years.

The statement was made by Harold E. Kohn, counsel for the truckers, during trial of the suit and countersuit filed by 31 eastern railroads and the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and 37 trucking firms.

Kohn's statement was immediately denied by Philip Price, counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad who is acting as chief trial attorney for the railroads.

Kohn entered an objection to Price's statement, but was overruled by the presiding judge.

In a statement read to U. S. District Court Judge Thomas J. Clary, who is hearing both suits simultaneously without a jury, Price said Kohn's claim was "erroneous." Price explained:

"The fees paid to which Mr. Kohn referred were not paid to Sen. Bricker but to the law firm of Bricker, Marburger, Evans and Barton, in Columbus, Ohio, which has represented the Pennsylvania Railroad in Columbus and rendered general legal services to it for a number of years."

"ALL FEES PAID to that firm have been for legal services rendered to the railroad. Sen. Bricker does not personally represent the Pennsylvania Railroad. His firm is one of several hundred firms which rendered general legal services to the PRR throughout the country."

"As your honor knows, many members of Congress continue while in Congress to engage in practicing law, or retain association with their law firms. Nothing is unusual or improper in regard to this practice."

The truckers are suing the eastern railroads for $250 million, charging illegal restraint of trade. The railroads filed a countersuit seeking $120 million, also under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

The new president of the District of Columbia Bar Assn. may not be literally one of the illustrious sons of Washington C. H., but he has such close ties here that the people take pride in his rapid rise in his chosen profession.

Robert W. Minor, not only has many friends here, but Mrs. Minor is the former Joan Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toward C. Allen, 624 Oakland Ave., a native of Washington C. H. and the product of the city's schools.

Minor, in private life an attorney in Columbus and in public life an Interstate Commerce Commissioner, is a native of Columbus and was graduated from Ohio State University College of Law in 1948. His rise to prominence has been rapid.

Before he was named by President Eisenhower earlier this year as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Minor was first assistant to Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers and before that he was administrative assistant to Sen. John W. Bricker.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor and their two children usually manage to get back here two or three times a year from their home in the nation's capital to visit Mrs. Minor's parents and their friends. Mr. Allen returned this week from a visit with them.

Today's News in Brief

Yugoslav-Russian Relations 'Better'

LONDON (AP)—Pravda said today that relations between the Yugoslav and Soviet Bloc Communist parties are getting better and "cooperation is growing in scope."

The statement by the organ of the Soviet party took on special significance because of the talks now going on in the Russian Crimea between President Tito of Yugoslavia and Kremlin leaders.

Tito made a hurried flight to the Soviet Union for the talks after reports of "ideological differences between Belgrade and Moscow. Many westerners believe he went to back-up Soviet party leader Nikita Khrushchev in a power struggle with former close associates of Stalin who reportedly think Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin are loosening controls on the satellites too much.

The Soviet party organ also praised Tito's foreign policy, particularly his support of Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal and his opposition to the outlawing of the West German Communist party.

Pravda's applause for Yugoslavia appeared to indicate that the issues which brought Tito to Russia might be near settlement in the Crimean talks.

Western diplomats in London meanwhile said Khrushchev has asked Tito to join a new Communist-type lineup of Communist states. Quoting Yugoslav sources, the Western informants reported Tito's initial response was cool—either negative or perhaps inconclusive.

Coal Miners Getting Boost In New $2.40-a-Day Package

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vice President Thomas Kennedy of the United Mine Workers of America announced today the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. (BCOA) have reached a tentative agreement on a new one-year contract calling for a "package" pay increase amounting to $2.40 a day.

Kennedy made the announcement at the union's 42nd constitutional convention.

The agreement still must be ratified by the convention and by the BCOA, whose directors are to meet today in Pittsburgh.

The contract with the BCOA covers about two-thirds of the coal industry. To become nationwide it would have to be signed by the Southern Coal Operators Assn. and unaffiliated operator groups.

The contract will be retroactive to last Monday and will bring the basic pay for miners up to $22.25 a day.

The convention squared away today for discussion of the annual report of its officers.

The officers presented their report to more than 3,000 delegates here Tuesday.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities reported today the arrest of three Greek Cypriots and said they were suspected of planning to bomb a police station at Lefka in northwest Cyprus.

Two other men were arrested later in the same case.

The three were picked up near the police station late Tuesday night. Officials said they carried a leather case containing bottle-type gasoline bombs, fuses and wire with batteries.

Herbert retired to the turnpike fuss

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul M. Herbert, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, Tuesday backed down on his "payoff" charges against Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy, a Democrat.

Herbert had accused "a member of the commission" of getting a $35,000 fee from a Cleveland law firm that got $350,000 from the turnpike commission for legal work.

Tuesday he identified the member as Shocknessy, but he considerably changed the nature of his charge.

He said it was a violation of "legal ethics" for Shocknessy to be associate counsel to a firm that did legal work for the commission.

The firm, Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, was hired by the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in the liquidation of the Lustron Corp. of Columbus. Shocknessy was hired by the RFC as associate counsel.

Shocknessy got $35,000 from the RFC for his services, and the Cleveland firm also was paid by the RFC.

LATER, Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill hired the Cleveland firm as bond counsel for the turnpike commission. It got paid $126,000 between May 1951 and August 1952. Later, it was paid other fees for more legal work for the commission.

Shocknessy replied early last week to Herbert's original charge. He said then that Herbert's attempt to link his (Shocknessy's) employment by the RFC in February 1950 to the attorney general's employment of the law firm in 1951 "is an obvious imbecility."

Shocknessy and Herbert shouted at each other in the commission headquarters in suburban Berea.

They argued about whether they should argue at 10 a. m. or 2 p. m., whether they should argue upstairs or downstairs, and about what they would argue about first.

When Herbert refused to go upstairs for the 10 a. m. session, Shocknessy and some of the other commissioners brought chairs down to the lobby.

When Herbert left, he said he wasn't coming back at 2 p. m. Reporters argued him into coming back, and he talked for 38 minutes to the commission. Shocknessy, who had insisted in the morning that they talk about the "$35,000 question" first, reversed himself and let Herbert talk about it last in the afternoon.

IN HIS REMARKS, Herbert accused the commission of spending $94 million more on construction than they had estimated. He spoke of alleged irregularities in a $1 million increase in the cost of right-of-way.

Dislike for Wife Is Now Apparent

COLUMBUS (AP)—Robert McGee, 47, of Columbus, apparently doesn't like his wife.

In 1951 McGee was convicted on a charge of assaulting to kill his wife and was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary. He served five years before being paroled last March.

Tuesday McGee was convicted in common pleas court of arson in a July fire at his wife's home. He was sentenced to one to seven years in the penitentiary.

Odds: Yankees 3-2 favorites.

Postponement sites—In case of weather postponement, teams will play at original site next day; games 1 and 2 must be played at Ebbets Field, 3, 4, 5, at Yankee Stadium, and 6 and 7 (if necessary) at Ebbets Field.

Peeewe Reese, Brooklyn's veteran shortstop, probably will feel lonesome out there without Phil Rizzuto as an opponent.

Reese and Rizzuto began their World Series rivalry in 1941, playing opposing shortstop in six series after that, but Rizzuto has been cast out by the Yankees and will attend the 1956 show as a spectator.

The nomination of Don Newcombe (Brooklyn) and Don Larsen (Yankees) to pitch the second game sent Figure Filberts rushing to the record books.

Is this the first time two pitchers named "Don" opposed each other as pitchers in the second game of the World Series? — a question as vital as that of the first lefthanded home run over the safety razor sign at 5:48 p. m.

The Voice of America will broadcast a delayed play-by-play description of the series in Japanese to the 20 million baseball fans in Japan. This should be interesting. How do you describe a Chinese home run in Japanese?

Ike Is Only A Baseball Fan Today

BROOKLYN (AP)—President Eisenhower, for the moment more baseball fan than President or politician, today attended his first World Series game.

Every spring since 1953, Eisenhower has been attending the opening game of the season at the Washington Senators' ballpark.

This time he tried his hand at tossing the first ball as the Brooklyn Dodgers started defending their world championship against the New York Yankees in Ebbets Field here.

A ceremony was set up at home plate to let the bigwigs of baseball welcome the chief executive and permit the rival managers to introduce their squads.

Eisenhower's flight to New York for the series opener was billed as a nonpolitical trip. No other candidates were invited to confer with him and no political speeches were on tap.

But Eisenhower wasn't passing up the chance to smile and wave at anybody in Queens and Brooklyn who wanted to see him as he rode from the airport to the ball field and back again.

The White House took care to outline in advance Eisenhower's exact route in New York — every twist and turn — and it picked a longer and different route for the return trip to LaGuardia Airport.

Eisenhower invited half his Cabinet to fly up with him and sit in his box at the ball game. The five were Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Labor Mitchell, Postmaster General Summerfield and Secretary of Welfare Folsom.

$2 Million Estate Is Ruled Invalid

CINCINNATI (AP)—The will of industrialist Walter Schott, which provided for $2 million to go to Roman Catholic charities, was declared invalid Tuesday by Probate Judge Chase M. Davies.

The ruling was based on an Ohio law providing that a will, which includes charitable bequests, must be drawn at least a year before death if any children survive. Schott died last April 9—less than a month short of the required year period. His widow and children will share in the estate.

Bricker Linked To Rail Dispute

Attorney Denies Solon Got Lush Legal Fees

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A lawyer for the trucking industry said Tuesday Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) was "regularly carried on the Pennsylvania Railroad payroll" and received from it more than $100,000 in three years.

The statement was made by Harold E. Kohn, counsel for the truckers, during trial of the suit and countersuit filed by 31 eastern railroads and the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and 37 trucking firms.

Kohn's statement was immediately denied by Philip Price, counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad who is acting as chief trial attorney for the railroads.

Kohn entered an objection to Price's statement, but was overruled by the presiding judge.

In a statement read to U. S. District Court Judge Thomas J. Clary, who is hearing both suits simultaneously without a jury, Price said Kohn's claim was "erroneous." Price explained:

"The fees paid to which Mr. Kohn referred were not paid to Sen. Bricker but to the law firm of Bricker, Marburger, Ewalt and Barton, in Columbus, Ohio, which has represented the Pennsylvania Railroad in Columbus and rendered general legal services to it for a number of years."

"ALL FEES PAID to that firm have been for legal services rendered to the railroad. Sen. Bricker does not personally represent the Pennsylvania Railroad. His firm is one of several hundred firms which rendered general legal services to the PRR throughout the country."

"As your honor knows, many members of Congress continue while in Congress to engage in practicing law, or retain association with their law firms. Nothing is unusual or improper in regard to this practice."

The truckers are suing the eastern railroads for $250 million, charging illegal restraint of trade. The railroads filed a countersuit seeking $120 million, also under the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

The new president of the District of Columbia Bar Assn. may not be literally one of the illustrious sons of Washington C. H., but he has such close ties here that the people take pride in his rapid rise in his chosen profession.

Robert W. Minor, not only has many friends here, but Mrs. Minor is the former Joan Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Allen, 624 Oakland Ave., a native of Washington C. H. and the product of the city's schools.

Minor, in private life an attorney in Columbus and in public life an interstate commerce commissioner, is a native of Columbus and was graduated from Ohio State University College of Law in 1948. His rise to prominence has been rapid.

Before he was named by President Eisenhower earlier this year as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Minor was first assistant to Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers and before that he was administrative assistant to Sen. John W. Bricker.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor and their two children usually manage to get back here two or three times a year from their home in the nation's capital to visit Mrs. Minor's parents and their friends. Mrs. Allen returned this week from a visit with them.

Today's News in Brief

Yugoslav-Russian Relations 'Better'

LONDON (AP)—Pravda said today that relations between the Yugoslav and Soviet Bloc Communist parties are getting better and "cooperation is growing in scope."

The statement by the organ of the Soviet party took on special significance because of the talks now going on in the Russian Crimea between President Tito of Yugoslavia and Kremlin leaders continued.

Tito made a hurried flight to the Soviet Union for the talks after reports of "ideological differences" between Belgrade and Moscow. Many westerners believe he went to back up Soviet party leader Nikita Khrushchev in a power struggle with former close associates of Stalin who reportedly think Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin are loosening controls on the satellites too much.

The Soviet party organ also praised Tito's foreign policy, particularly his support of Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal and his opposition to the outlawing of the West German Communist party.

Pravda's applause for Yugoslavia appeared to indicate that the issues which brought Tito to Russia might be near settlement in the Crimean talks.

Western diplomats in London meanwhile said Khrushchev has asked Tito to join a new Communist form-type lineup of Communist states. Quoting Yugoslav sources, the Western informants reported Tito's initial response was cool—either negative or perhaps inconclusive.

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists reported today that four of their F84 Thunderjets battled furiously with four Chinese Communist MIG-17s off the south China coast.

The Nationalists claimed two of the Red jets were damaged, one seriously, but that the Nationalist planes returned to their home base unscathed.

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Mrs. Maria Spada, a midwife weighing 28 1/2 pounds gave birth Tuesday to a 7 1/2 pound son.

The mother's height is 33 inches. Her husband, who appears with her in a sideshow, is two inches shorter.

The baby is normal-sized.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities reported today the arrest of three Greek Cypriots and said they were suspected of planning to bomb a police station at Lefka in northwest Cyprus.

Two other men were arrested later in the same case.

The three were picked up near the police station late Tuesday night. Officials said they carried a leather case containing bottle type gasoline bombs, fuses and wire with batteries.

Herbert Retreats In Turnpike Fuss

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul M. Herbert, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, Tuesday backed down on his "payoff" charges against Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy, a Democrat.

Herbert had accused "a member of the commission" of getting a $35,000 fee from a Cleveland law firm that got $350,000 from the turnpike commission for legal work.

Tuesday he identified the member as Shocknessy, but he considerably changed the nature of his charge.

He said it was a violation of "legal ethics" for Shocknessy to be associate counsel to a firm that did legal work for the commission.

The firm, Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, was hired by the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in the liquidation of the Lustron Corp. of Columbus. Shocknessy was hired

Dislike for Wife Is Now Apparent

COLUMBUS (AP)—Robert McGee, 47, of Columbus, apparently doesn't like his wife.

In 1951 McGee was convicted on a charge of assaulting to kill his wife and was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary. He served five years before being paroled last March.

Tuesday McGee was convicted in common pleas court of arson in a July fire at his wife's home. He was sentenced to one to seven years in the penitentiary.

Commented Assistant Prosecutor Fred W. Newsom: "At least he's persistent."

Dope Seller Gets 122-Year Sentence

COLUMBUS (AP)—A Detroit man charged with selling and possessing narcotics drew a prison term of 122 to 255 years in common pleas court here Tuesday.

The heavy penalty was imposed on Herbert Hoover Williams, 27, by Judge Dana F. Reynolds.

by the RFC as associate counsel. Shocknessy got $35,000 from the RFC for his services, and the Cleveland firm also was paid by the RFC.

LATER, Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill hired the Cleveland firm as bond counsel for the turnpike commission. It got paid $126,000 between May 1951 and August 1952. Later, it was paid other fees for more legal work for the commission.

Shocknessy replied early last week to Herbert's original charge. He said that Herbert's attempt to link his (Shocknessy's) employment by the RFC in February 1950 to the attorney general's employment of the law firm in 1951 "is an obvious imbecility."

Shocknessy and Herbert shouted at each other in the commission headquarters in suburban Berea.

They argued about whether they should argue at 10 a. m. or 2 p. m., whether they should argue upstairs or downstairs, and about what they would argue about first.

When Herbert refused to go upstairs for the 10 a. m. session, Shocknessy and some of the other commissioners brought chairs down to the lobby.

When Herbert left, he said he wasn't coming back at 2 p. m. Reporters argued him into coming back, and he talked for 38 minutes to the commission. Shocknessy, who had insisted in the morning that they talk about the "35,000 question" first, reversed himself and let Herbert talk about it last in the afternoon.

IN HIS REMARKS, Herbert accused the commission of spending $94 million more on construction than they had estimated. He spoke of alleged irregularities in a $1 million increase in the cost of right-of-way.

Commissioner A. J. Allen later said Herbert had "read the wrong line" on comparisons of construction estimates and expenditures. The expenditures included right-of-way, engineering, contingencies and interest not included in the estimate, he said.

Herbert's charges were similar to those made in 1954 by State Auditor James Rhodes, then Republican candidate for governor. The charges were denied. Rhodes took a sound drubbing at the polls.

Coal Miners Getting Boost In New $2.40-a-Day Package

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vice President Thomas Kennedy of the United Mine Workers of America announced today the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. (BCOA) have reached a tentative agreement on a new one-year contract calling for a "package" pay increase amounting to $2.40 a day. Kennedy made the announcement at the union's 42nd constitutional convention.

The agreement still must be ratified by the convention and by the BCOA, whose directors are to meet today in Pittsburgh.

The contract will be retroactive to last Monday and will bring the basic pay for miners up to $22.25 a day.

The convention squared away today for discussion of the annual report of its officers.

The officers presented their report to more than 3,000 delegates here Tuesday.

Longtime UMW chief John L. Lewis keynoted the opening session with renewed attacks on the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Taft-Hartley law.

He said the Taft-Hartley law is a "hateful act" which "can be used in any period of depression, if the organized employers of the country elect to do so, completely to destroy a labor organization."

The union chief said he thinks it "unfortunate that the American labor movement has not taken a more firm stand against this un-American statute and highly resolve to fight for its repeal."

Lewis said he thinks the TVA is "un-American and anti-social" and that it "gets around the minimum wage law now, to which they are obligated to adhere."

"Up to this time, this agency (the TVA) has not been told, either by the Congress or the chief executive, to follow the proclaimed policy of the United States and buy coal from mines that pay industry wages and from operators who invest their money under the free enterprise system and expect to have a return in the investment."

Cherry Hill PTA Endorses City School Bonds, Levy

The Cherry Hill Parent-Teacher Assn. today was on record, not only as endorsing the school building bond issue and operating levy proposals to be voted on Nov. 6 but also to pay its share of the expenses connected with the campaign.

A motion by Charles Sheridan that the PTA back the bond issue and levy was passed at the PTA's first meeting of the new school year Tuesday night.

After he had cited the immediate needs of the schools for classrooms and money to help meet operating expenses, Judge John P. Case offered a resolution that the Cherry Hill PTA pay its share of the cost of publicity to explain the bond issue and levy to the people. It also was approved.

Principal Earl Miller told the gathering of what he called a "community problem of inadequate schools" and discussed the effect of crowded classrooms on the children and teachers.

MILBOURNE FLEE, a member of the school board, went over the entire school program that has been laid out by the board and explained, step by step, what the $645,000 building program and the 2.5-mil operating levy is intended to do in relieving the crowded classrooms and developing the teaching staff.

He used a prepared chart of facts and figures to point up his talk and showed architect's sketches of the two new buildings and two additions (one to the Cherry Hill School) included in the building program.

At the conclusion of his talk, the meeting was opened to questioning:

Q. How long will it take to pay off the bonds and interest? A. 23 years.

Q. If property valuations go up, what will that mean for the tax. A. The tax (rate) will go down.

Q. How can we get indifferent persons, who have no children in school, interested in the bond issue and levy? A. Discussion, but no definite answer.

Q. How would passage affect

Last Rites Held For John Farmer

Services for John W. Farmer, who died Sunday, were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the New Holland Church of Christ.

The Rev. Gene Cramer read from the Scriptures, offered prayer and delivered a short sermon. Mrs. Cramer sang two hymns with Miss Carolyn Ford at the piano.

The pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Dan Ford, Marvin Landman, Clarence Fox, Earl Armentrout, O. C. Dennis and Cy Doan.

Burial was in New Holland Cemetery.

Driver Fined $30; Two Forfeit Bond

Tuesday was a light day in Municipal Court. Only three cases, all traffic law violations, were up for hearing but only David Russell Hall appeared.

Hall, 20 of Wildwood Rd., was fined $25 and costs for excessive noise at 1:55 a. m. Wednesday.

Franklin Elza Howe, 49, Wildwood Rd., picked up for running a red light on Oakland Ave., forfeited $15 bail, and Richard H. Mellicke, 25, Greenville, Mich., cited for failure to stop at the stop sign on Leesburg Ave. before entering Court St., forfeited $15 bail.

TWO MEETINGS were scheduled for campaigners in the Cherry Hill district, the first at 7:30 p. m. Thursday and the second Monday night for those who can not get to the one Thursday.

For the house-to-house canvass that is planned, it was agreed that no campaigner should have more than 10 calls to make.

Mrs. Charles Sheridan, program chairman, introduced the leaders of the 4-H groups and one Scout troop and Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home demonstration agent, presented the 4-H awards.

Mrs. Joe Loudner is leader of the Pixies Club of six girls; Mrs. Harold Moats of the nine-girl Jolly Jumpers Club and Mrs. Billie Wilson of the 20-girl Magic Makers Club.

Bob Highfield introduced the Cherry Hill Wildcats Scout unit.

The banner for having the most parents at the meeting went to Principal Miller's sixth grade.

October To Be Navy and Marine Month in City

City Manager James F. Parkinson has proclaimed October U. S. Navy and Marine Month in Washington C. H.

In his proclamation Parkinson urged young men to take advantage of the "opportunity to serve their nation."

Extra effort will be expended by Navy and Marine recruiting officers all over the country as public officials everywhere have signed similar proclamations.

Phone Firm Warns City On 'Violence'

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Portsmouth City Manager Robert Layton Tuesday night said officials of the struck Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. warned that exchanges at Portsmouth, Sciotoville and New Boston may be closed again unless added police protection is provided for company repair crews.

The exchanges were closed three days last month after a group of some 30 men attacked five company supervisors who were repairing damaged cables.

The company warning came after Portsmouth City Council voted not to put more men on the police force because of the added expense. And Layton said the city could not grant a company request for at least one patrolman to accompany each of its three daytime repair crews.

A strike against the firm by the Communications Workers of America is now in its 12th week. The strike began when the union and company were unable to agree on the terms of a new contract to replace one that expired July 15.

Meanwhile, a company spokesman said a dozen cable cuts in nearby Sciotoville and in rural areas in Scioto County had knocked out service to about 1,000 subscribers.

In Municipal Court, Judge Lowell Thompson ordered David R. Bartlett, 21, a striker, bound over to the grand jury on a charge of assaulting a cable repair crewman last Sept. 18.

3 Airmen Killed As Big Plane Falls

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—A C124 Globemaster based at Kelley Air Force base, San Antonio, Tex., crashed and burned today at the Charleston Air Force base. Three of the 10 men aboard died.

The others were sped to the U. S. Naval Hospital here.

The Air Force base Public Information office said the huge plane, coming in from Bermuda, landed short on an instrument runway about 7:30 a. m. The plane apparently burst into flame after it hit. A light fog hung over the base at the time.

Young Mother Makes Pitiful Robbery Try

CLEVELAND (AP)—A young mother failed in a pitiful attempt at a bank robbery Tuesday and police were puzzled at her motive.

They arrested Mrs. Maybelle Millard, 25, mother of four, and wife of a 30-year-old veteran who lost both legs in World War II.

She is accused of trying to rob a shopping center branch of the Cleveland Trust Co. with a note demanding money. She carried no gun, and left without any loot when the woman teller rang the alarm button.

Police, summoned by the alarm, saw her drive away in a 1955 station wagon and took the license number. She was arrested when she drove up to her comfortable, ranch-style home in suburban Highland Heights three hours later.

Her husband, Richard, 30, draws a disability pension and is employed as a finisher by an optical firm. After his wife's arrest, he would make no comment except to say his wife had been under doctor's care for a year.

The bank teller, 30-year-old Mrs. Florence M. Rees, said the woman shoved three rolls of pennies at her and a piece of children's drawing paper on which was crudely lettered:

"Don't say anything. Give me your money. I have a buddy at the door with a gun on you."

Mrs. Rees opened a drawer, pressed the alarm button and gave the woman a dollar bill and two quarters in exchange for the pennies. The woman picked up $1.25 and left, leaving a quarter.

Berserk Farmer Kills 6 Children

CLINTON, N. C. (AP)—Domestic difficulties were blamed by officers for a tenant farmer going berserk Tuesday and killing his six children and himself.

Rufus A. King, 35, had a temper and had several fuses with his wife that the neighbors knew about, but he was a sober church goer without a police record.

Tuesday morning, apparently while two of his children were waiting for a school bus in the front yard of their five-room house, his mind snapped. Within a matter of minutes he had shot each through the head with a .22 rifle and then beat the heads of each with an ax. Then he shot himself.

Cigarettes Blamed In Probe of Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Something else has been blamed for Los Angeles smog — cigarettes.

The latest report of the air pollution control district comes up with the calculation that 64,806,230 cigarettes are smoked every day in Los Angeles County. This, the APCD estimates, adds 12 tons of contaminants to the air every day.

New De Molay Group To Hold Initiation, Installation Rites

Initiation of new members and installation of officers of the Order of De Molay are to be held in the Masonic Temple, 113 1/2 S. Main St., here Saturday. The initiation is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. and the installation at 7:30 p. m.

Formation of the Order of De Molay in Washington C. H. is now in the final stages under the sponsorship of the recently organized Acacia Club.

The Acacia Club is limited to members of the Masonic order, but De Molay is open to any boy between 14 and 21 years of age. It is not necessary for a boy to be a relative of a Mason, but he must be sponsored by a Mason and two members of De Molay.

A spokesman explained that the Acacia Club was formed by Masons who are "interested in providing an organization (De Molay) to occupy the time of the boys rather than have them on the streets and other places which might have had influences on them."

THE ACACIA CLUB is to have a dinner at the Masonic Temple at 6 p. m. Saturday, between the afternoon initiation and evening installation ceremonies of the Order of De Molay.

Officers of the Acacia Club are Leo Edwards, president; Willard Sears, vice president; Thomas Dickerson, secretary; Jerry Sparks treasurer; Virgil Lowe, club advisor; John A. Leland, ritual advisor; Roland Hites, music advisor and Harry Townsend, athletic advisor.

Other members of the advisory council are Harold McConaughy, John Craig, Weldon Kaufman, Robert Seymour, John Lawson, James Priest, Paul Roney and Walter Heath.

It was disclosed that "any boy interested in De Molay may contact any of the advisory council and they will be glad to help them."

Camera Club Sees Hawaii Slide Display

A special showing of about 150 color slides made by Mrs. Ragna Stenmar on her trip to the Hawaiian Islands highlighted the regular October meeting of the Fayetteville Camera Club Tuesday night.

Miss Norma Dodd gave a description and background of each picture in a running commentary. At this meeting were 35 members and guests from New Holland, Sabina, Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville to see the series of slides of tropical beauty and places of interest on the islands. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hites, David Roe, Mrs. Gladys Strevey, Miss Helen Slavens and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hays at the conclusion of the meeting in the second floor room in the Hays Building at 247 E. Court St.

Martha Graham, one of the most acclaimed Broadway creators of modern dance, is a direct descendant of Mille Standish.

Jury System Humanizes Law, Rotary Club Told

The importance of the layman's interest and responsibility in the jury system of today, as viewed from the court bench, was the theme of an address to Rotarians and guests at Tuesday's Rotary meeting at the Country Club.

The speaker was Judge Calvin Crawford, of Dayton, at present a Common Pleas Court judge in that city. He formerly was a U. S. attorney for the Southern District of Ohio and previously served as

JUDGE CALVIN CRAWFORD

Montgomery County prosecuting attorney. He was presented by a friend of many years, Judge Max Dice, who was associated with him in part of his college career and also in some of their early days of law practice.

Judge Crawford opened his talk by asserting that in this age of science with its breathless excitement, so many new legal problems have been arising that the profession of law is confronted with a special need for keeping in touch with stepped-up progress and the human element of our times; that attorneys today are supposed to become posted and know something about practically everything.

He touched upon the value of recognizing that in the profession of law it is necessary to have a full understanding of the citizen and the community in problems that arise.

"Law is the universal human science," the speaker said, reaching and regulating every human activity. We in the legal profession find many of our richest rewards in the opportunity it affords to watch the drama of life in the courtroom, embracing as it does both comedy and tragedy, the sordid and the sublime.

Asserting that courts need the human approach to human problems and the jury system tends to humanize the law, Judge Crawford said:

"Trial by jury, which has been cherished for centuries as a foundation stone of freedom and justice, is endangered today, —not by lawyers or judges or any of those who administer justice, but by the reluctance of qualified citizens to take the time to serve as jurors. If we are to preserve our jury system it is necessary for citizens to make some sacrifice by responding when called."

"THE AVERAGE person who receives a jury summons dreads the prospect of coming into court. However most of those who serve find to their surprise that they have enjoyed the experience; they come away with a new appreciation of the modern administration of those ancient principles of justice which have come down to us as so rich a heritage."

The speaker also called attention to the importance of cross examination in many cases where the accused faces the accused. He related many incidents in his own experience to illustrate this and other points made in his talk, to emphasize how searching inquiry quite often actually determines where hidden or overlooked truth can be uncovered.

He also made a strong plea against emotional attitudes whereby sometimes a seemingly frustrated society loses sight of the possibilities of rehabilitation for an individual who can become a good member of society. This also was a situation which he illustrated with several stories of actual court experiences, in speaking of many inequalities in the application of penalties imposed.

He declared that in the matter of rehabilitation of many people who have had some type of criminal record, service clubs in some places have taken up projects of helping in this work of giving such people another chance to become worthwhile citizens in cases where evidence indicated such aid could mean a great difference in the convicted person's life.

In concluding his remarks Judge Crawford said, "We who cherish our profession join in a chorus with Alexander Pope who said, 'The proper study of mankind is man.'"

DURING the club session birthday greetings were sung for Robert Haigler, Dr. I. L. Pumphrey and Dr. Stewart B. Smith, all of whom contributed to the club's youth fund. In this period an amusing incident took place when Haigler held out a small sack containing his money but which also concealed a mousetrap to which Don Wood the collector, fell a victim, as he reached inside for the offered bill.

Guests for the meeting were John Ellicott with William Himmelsbach; Judge John Case with Judge Max Dice; Richard Andre of Dayton with Fred Rost and William Stoughton with Joe Peters.

Rotarians who were guests were Paul Arthur of Mt. Sterling, Dr. C. D. Felson, Greenfield, and Dr. Benton V. D. Scott, Fayette County Health Commissioner, of Chillicothe.

Poet's Corner

GOLD SHINE ON THE HILLS
Some people like the winter
With its festive joys and cheer;
While others think that summer
Is the best time of the year;
Each season has its wonder hours.

Each season has its thrills;
But I prefer the autumn
And the gold shine on the hills.

Winter has its rich abundance
Of nature's garnered hoard;
And caroling December
Has the favor of the Lord;
But my kinship with October
And its placid streams and rills,
Makes me partial to the autumn
And the gold shine on the hills.

Summer has exotic glories
Of land and sky and sea;
And we are all susceptible
To its charms and witchery;
But autumn has a nameless grace
That overflows and spills;
And that is why I love it
And the gold shine on the hills.

Fayette Extension Officials To Attend State Conference

County Agent W. W. Montgomery, Associate Agent Philip Grover and Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home economics extension agent, will be in Columbus Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, attending the annual Ohio Extension Conference at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

A highlight of Wednesday morning's program will be an address by A. Z. Baker, past president of Rotary International, whose topic will be "Living with Your Job." This also represents the theme of the three-day conference. Dean L. L. Rummell of the College of Agriculture will also appear on Wednesday morning's program, speaking on "The Future of the College of Agriculture."

The Friday session will feature a luncheon at noon in the ballroom of the Ohio Union. Guest speaker will be Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, president, Ohio State University. Director W. B. Wood, of the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service, will close the session with remarks entitled "The Year Ahead in Extension."

Story about Fire Not at all Amusing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—It was not nearly as amusing as it was confusing.

The three children of Mrs. Thomas C. Endicott Jr. jabbered to her about a house fire. She had just returned from Lexington, Ky. where her mother's house was damaged by fire and thought they meant that one.

Instead, she discovered, they were talking about the house she and her husband were building.

The $20,000 home was destroyed by fire Monday, the day Mrs. Endicott left for Lexington.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Jim and I have been married 13 years and have three fine children and a modestly comfortable home in an upper middle class section.

Although Jim likes his family and his home, he admits to being lazy and loathes maintenance and repair chores. So when the slightest thing goes wrong, we have to pay a serviceman to fix it.

We've paid men in all fields for the merest trifles, such as a plug not being plugged in, therefore no heat; or a filter slipped in the heating unit, hence dust blowing through the house; or water in the basement, due to an open window. Once a 20-foot broken branch stayed on the roof five months, until a kind neighbor removed it.

No amount of good advice from neighbors or friends changes Jim, and this is a constant source of irritation to me.

His only interest in life is his business and he claims he is working like a dog to make enough money to pay someone else to take care of the maintenance. Meantime, what are we to do when the lawn needs mowing, the car tires need changing, the children's bikes need minor repairs, etc.?

K. P.

DEAR K. P.: In my opinion, a really competent housewife, confronted with a problem like this, would let Jim off the hook. If he provides you a comfortable home in a better class section, he has certain valid claims to appreciation as a worthwhile team mate. And if he isn't an able and willing handyman on the premises, well, at least he is ready to let you hire that sort of work done. If he isn't interested in patch-up chores, for exercise or to save money, if he prefers to grind like a slave in business, to buy leisure in his home life, I think it is a mistake to suppose, as you do, that your demands are righteous.

In effect you fight Jim for being himself, unlike you; for having living values that differ from yours. This is an unfair attitude that overlooks and sets at naught his solid virtues as a partner.

Since you have a concern about property upkeep, and Jim candidly sidesteps fix-it chores, the smart solution is: Learn about plugs out, filters slipped, windows open, etc., so that you won't have to call specialists twice on such flukes. Get shop service on auto and bicycles. Plan an occasional bargain day's work for a handyman. Graciously try to make no fuss about the smooth-running of the household (at Jim's expense).

Once you take this constructive tack, Jim may turn over a new leaf too. Your erstwhile habitual nagging likely has done more harm than good.

A Pledged Agreement Is Not a "Scrap of Paper"

When one of our neighbors or any citizen of our community deliberately violates a well defined and clear-cut agreement with any of us or our city, county or state, most all people look upon that individual with contempt. We henceforth refuse to trust him.

It would be impossible to describe adequately the human and material destruction that, in modern times, has followed the cynical abandonment of pledged agreements and obligations among nations.

A particularly callous example was Wilhelm II's "scrap of paper" declaration when he tore up the German-Belgium treaty at the beginning of the First World War. There have been far too many comparable examples since with fateful consequences for the guilty and the innocent alike.

Premier Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal makes one remember such events. Nasser has attempted to assuage the other powers by declaring that the canal will be kept open and that its former owners will be recompensed for nationalization. But that is a minor matter, in the long view, when set beside the plain fact that Nasser violated Egypt's pledged word, as expressed by treaty.

Under that treaty, the canal would have gone into the possession of Egypt in the relatively near future—in 1968. But Nasser, with his dream of empire, and his policy of pitting East against West, would not wait. That attitude of his—whatever happens in the current crisis—may cost his country dearly.

Egypt—like all the Middle East—is desperate for Western capital. But will private capital from this or any other Western country be invested in Egypt when it is known that she will respect treaties and obligations only if they happen to suit her mood of the moment? It is hardly likely.

Will Egypt still expect aid from the U. S. government? In this connection, a suggestion made editorially by The Saturday Evening Post is apt indeed. It is that our government "... announce that as of now the foreign-aid barrel is closed to countries which refuse to accept their responsibilities or stand by their agreements."

It is quite probable that such an announcement would make all Americans feel better and, from the way this country has been handing out finances to aid the general economy of the world for the past many years, the taxpayers of our nation would feel better.

Coming: Pedestrian Heaven

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U)—What can be done to keep traffic from choking to death the centers of America's big cities?

Victor Gruen, a distinguished architect, has a simple but revolutionary solution—ban all automobiles from downtown areas and restore the streets to the pedestrians.

"I predict that by the year 2,000, and maybe a little before," he said, "it will be considered just foolish to take vehicles into the interiors of business centers as we feel today it's peculiar to drive a truck into a living room."

"A city of a million people has a population of 500,000 automobiles. They crowd humans off the street."

Gruen, designer of Northland at Detroit, one of the world's largest shopping centers, has been retained by the Greater Fort Worth planning committee to redesign the entire downtown area of that city for the next 15 years.

One of his projected ideas: Putting service and delivery traffic in the 300-acre business district underground and banning passenger vehicles from surface areas.

Pedestrians would have the streets entirely to themselves except for slow-moving electric shuttles for the ill, the crippled and the downright lazy.

Sounds like a jaywalker's heaven. The heart of the city would be converted into a pleasant business and recreation area with plenty of trees, fountains, gardens and arcades. One fashionable street in the shopping center would be roofed over and completely airconditioned.

Buses would penetrate into the pedestrian paradise at three points. No building in the business center would be more than a six-minute walk to a ring of 10,000-car garages that would also serve as heliports for flying commuters.

The idea of auto-free streets sounds wonderful to us career pedestrians. But will the motorists regard it as sporting? For them it might take all the fun out of driving.

The Modern Revolution

By George Sokolsky

It is impossible to understand Nasser's program unless Mao Tse-tung's program, Nehru's program and the revolt of the Moors in North Africa are simultaneously considered, because what is happening in Egypt is only a phase of the worldwide revolution initiated by Lenin and Trotsky and their associates in 1917.

This revolution already has passed through several phases and there is much unfinished business still to plague the rest of mankind.

One of these phases is the revolt of the dark-skinned peoples against the white peoples. If a Hindu, for instance, were told that Soviet Russia is the most colonial nation on earth, the Hindu is likely to reject the idea. He probably adopts the attitude that colonialism means the subjection of the dark-skinned peoples to the white-skinned countries.

And it is this formula that Soviet Russia has succeeded in establishing in Asia and Africa to the peril of all Western countries and the peace of the world.

It is a devastating formula because, as things stand today, it could mean a retreat from civilization. Way back in 1863, Jules Michelet, the French historian, writing about Kosciuszko, said:

"... we must simply consider Russia as a whole, as a barbarous force, a lawless world, a world hostile to law; one which does not advance, but retreats and reverts to ancient barbarism, a world which accepts modern civilization only in order to bring disintegration into the Western world and to kill the law itself. The world of law has its frontiers where it used to have them in the Middle Ages, on the Vistula and on the Danube. Russia takes from us only the evil. She absorbs all the poison of Europe. She returns it in an increased and more dangerous form. Accepting Russia we accept cholera, anarchy and death."

And somehow this judgment fits today as it was unquestionably true prior to the Bolshevik Revolution. The Russians, from the start of their history, moved in a different direction from Western Europe. The West was Roman; Russia continued the concept of autocracy. While those nations which derive their civilizations from Greece and Rome developed steadily and increasingly in the direction of a greater liberty for the individual, where-ever the influences were Byzantine or Oriental, the direction was always toward power for those who controlled the state and the subjection of the people to those in power.

Thus, East of the Vistula and the Danube have appeared a number of countries and peoples who are wholly unlike those in the West in habits, in thought, in their attitudes toward moral and public questions. It is altogether a different world.

When to these historical differences are added the racial distinction of pigmentation, the relationships become complex and difficult of solution. For the pigmented peoples have always resented the power the white-skinned peoples have asserted over them. The nations that produced Avicenna and Averroes will not regard themselves as inferior to those who produced Maimonides and Thomas Aquinas.

Here is a conflict that for centuries was limited to academic discussion; now it is the foremost problem of our century.

It is the color problem which is disturbing Asia and Africa and therefore Europe and the United States. Granted that Soviet Russia stepped into that situation and aggravated it, the fact is that the disease was festering and the Russians knew what to do to make it explosive.

They took the poisons of Western history and distilled them to greater potency, until now there are no doctors so wise or able that they know what to do. Masses of Egypt stands as the dark-skinned man telling the white-skinned one to come and fight him and he knows that no one dare start a fight because that would mean the hydrogen bomb and the end to everything.

Even had the wisest men foreseen this—and there were many who did foresee this, not the least of whom was Rudyard Kipling—there would still be no answer.

It is one of those crucial historic situations, like the rise of the Bourgeoisie in the French Revolution and the Proletariat after World War I which works itself out over the centuries. The hope now is that whatever else it brings, it will not bring more war.

Roseola Infantum Is Seldom Serious

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

As its name suggests, roseola infantum is a disease affecting young children, usually those under the age of three. And since it is most prevalent during spring and fall, I think a discussion of it is timely.

While complications seldom develop, and the stricken youngster generally recovers with only symptomatic treatment, the high temperature and rash which accompany the disease usually alarm the parents.

The disease probably is caused by a virus and is believed to be communicable. There have been minor epidemics from time to time.

High Fever

If your youngster becomes a victim, he probably will develop a fever ranging from 103 to 105 degrees very abruptly. This high temperature will continue for three to five days.

There is no indication of the cause although there may be mild respiratory symptoms, swollen lymphatic glands or loose stools during the fever period.

Some children will experience little discomfort. Others do not eat well, are restless, sleep poorly and seem to be in pain. Convulsions are common during this period.

Unlike measles and scarlet fever, the rash doesn't develop until the temperature drops, usually about the fourth day.

Chest and Abdomen

The rash is composed of discrete pink macules and usually is most profuse on the chest and abdomen. It sometimes appears on the nape of the neck, the upper part of the limbs and even the scalp. But the rash on the face is barely noticeable.

Despite the rash, your youngster probably will feel and act well by this time. Generally the rash is fully developed within 24 hours and subsides within 48 hours.

Sponging the child with tepid water or alcohol may help bring the fever down and keep it below 103 degrees. Your doctor probably will also prescribe acetylsalicylic acid.

A Pledged Agreement Is Not a "Scrap of Paper"

When one of our neighbors or any citizen of our community deliberately violates a well defined and clear - cut agreement with any of us or our city, county or state, most all people look upon that individual with contempt. We henceforth refuse to trust him.

It would be impossible to describe adequately the human and material destruction that, in modern times, has followed the cynical abandonment of pledged agreements and obligations among nations.

A particularly callous example was Wilhelm II's "scrap of paper" declaration when he tore up the German - Belgium treaty at the beginning of the First World War. There have been far too many comparable examples since with fateful consequences for the guilty and the innocent alike.

Premier Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal makes one remember such events. Nasser has attempted to assuage the other powers by declaring that the canal will be kept open and that its former owners will be recompensed for nationalization. But that is a minor matter, in the long view, when set beside the plain fact that Nasser violated Egypt's pledged word, as expressed by treaty.

Under that treaty, the canal would have gone into the possession of Egypt in the relatively near future — in 1968. But Nasser, with his dream of empire, and his policy of pitting East against West, would not wait. That attitude of his—whatever happens in the current crisis—may cost his country dearly.

Egypt — like all the Middle East—is desperate for Western capital. But will private capital from this or any other Western country be invested in Egypt when it is known that she will respect treaties and obligations only if they happen to suit her mood of the moment? It is hardly likely.

Will Egypt still expect aid from the U. S. government? In this connection, a suggestion made editorially by The Saturday Evening Post is apt indeed. It is that our government "... announce that as of now the foreign - aid barrel is closed to countries which refuse to accept their responsibilities or stand by their agreements."

It is quite probable that such an announcement would make all Americans feel better and, from the way this country has been handing out finances to aid the general economy of the world for the past many years, the taxpayers of our nation would feel better.

Sohio announces a New Boron Gasoline
so far advanced it is a new class of motor fuel

with the greatest octane power ever offered Ohio drivers!

ONLY TWO SHORT YEARS AGO, Sohio announced a great new motor fuel discovery—The World's First Boron Gasoline. Today that gasoline has won such a high place in the esteem of motorists that it outsells the next seven leading premium gasolines in Ohio combined. And more and more drivers are using it every day.

But even before Boron gasoline was introduced, Sohio scientists knew that someday technical advances would make possible an even greater Boron gasoline, with even greater benefits for every car.

That someday is now here.

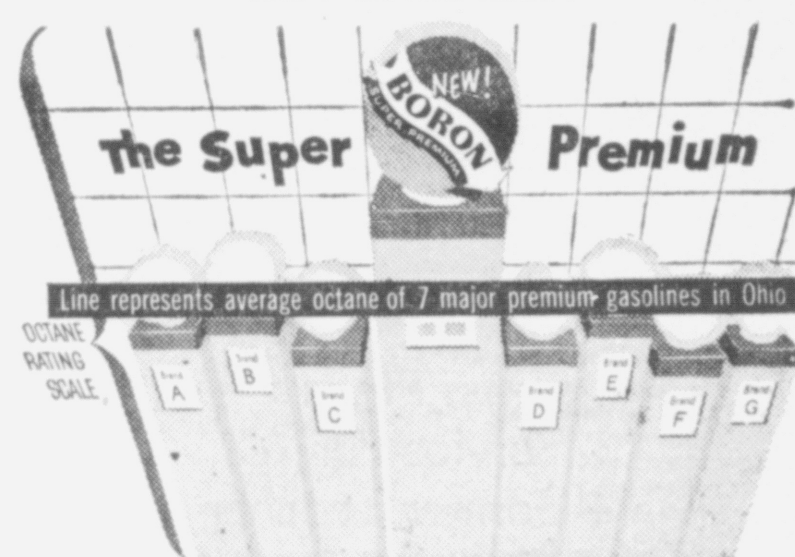

Continued testing programs over the past two years, employing the newest measuring techniques, have proved again and again the basic Boron gasoline benefits, and have demonstrated their value as the foundation for any further step forward.

Now, a multi-million dollar investment by Sohio in advanced refining equipment has made it possible to produce Boron gasoline components of a new and superior kind.

As a result of this research and manufacturing leadership, Sohio now announces a great new Boron gasoline so far advanced in every major quality that it is a new class of gasoline—super premium! It is a gasoline that is best for whatever car you drive . . . best for whatever car you'll buy.

OCTANE RATING OF PREMIUM GASOLINES VS.
BORON—THE SUPER PREMIUM

Super Premium in Power!

The new Boron Super Premium gasoline has the greatest octane power ever offered Ohio drivers. Its octane power is so high that it meets the highest predicted anti-knock requirements of the newest cars to come in 1957. And any car now on the road, old or new, in Ohio will reach its greatest power potential on Boron Super Premium. It will be the standard in Ohio against which all other automotive gasolines are measured. The graph above shows how new Boron compares with present premium gasolines on the basis of octane power!

Super Premium in Smoothness!

New Boron Super Premium sets a new standard of engine smoothness unattainable till now.

Super Premium in Engine Cleanliness!

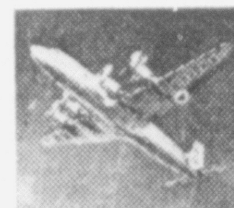

Because of the clean-burning characteristics of Boron Super Premium, engine deposits will be reduced to a point where the life of vital engine parts will be greatly extended. Valve life, for example, is so much increased that compression is kept high for thousands of extra miles.

Super Premium in Acid Reduction!

With Boron Super Premium, ring wear due to acid action can be reduced as much as 45% under tough, stop-and-go driving conditions. This has been demonstrated by radioactive piston ring tests in which Geiger counters measured the amount of metal worn from the rings.

Super Premium in Anti-Knock Compound!

New Boron Super Premium is made with costly aviation anti-knock compound rather than the common "motor" type used in other gasolines. This is the same anti-knock compound as that used in making modern aviation gasoline.

This major advance in Boron gasoline makes possible super premium power, smoothness, and engine condition benefits for all Ohio motorists.

Best for whatever car you drive —best for whatever car you'll buy!

Special Announcement! Octane of Sohio
X-tane gasoline has just been raised to a new all-time high!

Browning Club Dinner Meeting And Guest Night

Browning Club members opened the 61st year of literary study with a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

A delicious three course dinner was served by the ladies of the church at tables forming a U, decorated with arrangements of colorful autumn leaves centered with clusters of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Willard Bitzer, club president, welcomed the forty-one members and guests and introduced the 1956-57 officers and department chairmen.

In a few well chosen words Mrs. Bitzer also explained the theme of the coming year's study which has been arranged by the program committee which is "Great Religions Of The World."

Mrs. Herbert Perrill delighted the group with two beautifully rendered piano solos and Mrs. Donald Murdock was presented in a brief talk on the United Appeals Drive soon to open throughout the county.

The Rev. Father Richard R. Connelly was presented as guest speaker and in a charming manner spiced with wit and humor he highlighted his talk on religious aspects, which was in keeping with the year's theme "Great Religions Of The World."

Father Connelly pointed out that America is a great meeting pot for many religions and told many experiences and anecdotes holding his audience in rapt attention as he spoke of the Greek, Catholic and the many protestant religions which are all combined into one symbol—an American.

The committee for the meeting was composed of Mrs. Willard Bitzer, Mrs. Robert Angus, Mrs. John P. Case, Mrs. Charles Fuhs who make up the corps of officers of the club and they were assisted by Mrs. Darrell Weinrich.

Kensington Club Meeting Includes "Noon Spread"

Mrs. John Groff was hostess on Tuesday to members of the Kensington Club for a "noon spread" with Mrs. Charles Parrett as her co-hostess.

The delicious meal served buffet, was enjoyed at one large table and smaller tables each centered with arrangements of fall flowers, which were also admired throughout the home.

The afternoon meeting was presided over by Mrs. Lon Thornton, president, and the devotionals built around the subject "Happiness" were planned by Mrs. Charles Parrett and led by Mrs. Don Thornton and closed with the praying of the Lord's Prayer by the group.

The usual reports were heard and accepted, and the next meeting was planned for November 7 at the home of Mrs. Charles Hughes.

The program also planned by Mrs. Parrett and conducted by Mrs. Thornton, consisted of short readings.

Mrs. Bertha Porter also gave a reading "The Lazy Farmer" and Mrs. Robert McMahon read the minutes of a meeting held at the home of Mrs. John Groff seven years ago which was most interesting.

The meeting was closed with the club benediction and a social was enjoyed by the twelve members present and three guests. Mrs. Kerns Thompson, Mrs. Gladys Keller and Mrs. Helen Elliott.

Mrs. Guy Briggs, social chairman, announced a hay ride Saturday, October 13, leaving from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagler at 8 p. m. and members may include guests.

Mrs. Lee Alderman, Mrs. Robert Olinger, Mrs. Guy Briggs and Mrs. Robert H. Allen were appointed to make calls on patients in Memorial Hospital and Rest Homes during the month of October.

Miss Florence Cook was introduced as a member of the committee for the Community Chest

Drive and spoke briefly on the drive and told what the money would be used for and following her talk a substantial contribution was made to this fund.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Floyd West who gave a paper on the subject "Skin Care and Proper Makeup" in which she pointed out that beauty is a habit and she emphasized "be faithful to your beauty and health habits and listed four types of skin, dry, oily, combination and normal."

She also described treatment for each condition of the skin, and gave never-never rules for skin care. Among the most important are never scrub the face with a cloth, never leave soap on the face, and never rinse with a face cloth.

She closed with the admonition "never grow complacent in skin care" and explained the care in choosing cosmetics for the different types of makeup.

At the close of the program the hostess was assisted by Mrs. James DeWeese, in the serving of a tempting dessert course.

The wedding will be an event of December 1, and will be solemnized in Central Methodist Church in Springfield, at 4:30 P. M.

Lioness Club Holds Regular Dinner Meeting

The regular dinner meeting of the Lioness Club was held Tuesday evening at the Washington Country Club.

The round tables seating the members for a delightful dinner were centered with ears of corn, acorns and late fall flowers which is in keeping with the autumn season and yellow candles shed a soft light on the clever arrangements.

Preceding the dinner the singing of "America" and the Salute to the Flag led by Mrs. Ray French was followed with praying of the Lord's Prayer led by Mrs. Willard Parrett.

The meeting following was presided over by Mrs. French, who presented Mr. John Breiner who gave an explanation and appeal for the Community Chest drive and also Mr. Robert Terhune who gave a talk on school needs, the operating levy and school bonds which are to be voted on at the November election.

Following these talks the Lioness Club went on record as favoring the schools needs and a contribution was also made to the Community Chest.

An appeal for donors for the Blood Bank was also made by Mrs. Joseph M. Herbert and Mrs. John Richards also spoke on the Health Levy.

Mrs. French explained the work of the Gray Ladies and encouraged members to join this worthy organization.

The program was made up of a panel discussion on questions presented by members and the panel composed of Mrs. Gene Sagar, Mrs. Eddie McCoy, Mrs. Wayne Bower and Mrs. Omar Schwartz with Mrs. John Trace as moderator.

The committee for the meeting was Mrs. Willard Parrett, chairman, Mrs. Richard Barger, Mrs. Joe White and Mrs. Emerson Marting.

Mrs. Robert Terhune was included as a dinner guest.

Mix a third cup of orange juice with a couple of tablespoons of sugar and sprinkle over a chocolate cake (nine-inch size) as soon as it comes from the oven. Serve as a pudding dessert with whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk.

Class Members Hold Meeting At Church

The regular monthly meeting of The Loyal Berean Class of The South Side Church of Christ was held at the church Tuesday evening.

The president, Mr. Howard Brooks, presided over the business session with prayer; by Mr. Frank E. Creamer. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were approved as read.

The class projects were reported as completed and a new project of completing the loudspeaker system was voted to be completed before the next meeting.

The November meeting is planned for a chili supper with hostesses to be announced later.

Mrs. John Fredrick was devotional leader and based her discussion on the 19th Psalm.

Mrs. Charles Hooks and Mrs. Frank E. Creamer sang a duet "An Evening Prayer" with Mrs. Creamer accompanying on the piano and Mr. Frank Coulter closed the devotions with prayer.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Charles Hooks, Mrs. Frank E. Creamer, Mrs. Claude Coulter, Mrs. Guy Patton, Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. John G. Jordan and refreshments suggestive of the Halloween season were served from a long table, white cloth covered and centered with an attractive arrangement of late fall flowers, in a white pottery container, further carrying out the orange and white color scheme.

One cup of grated cheddar cheese added to a medium white sauce made from 1½ cups milk, makes a good - tasting cheese sauce.

Vary the flavor of pie - crust mix by adding grated orange rind and substituting orange juice for the water called for.

Sorority Holds Regular Meeting At West Home

The regular meeting of Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Floyd West with eight members present.

The president, Mrs. Ray Jennings led in the opening ritual and Mrs. Robert Olinger read the poem entitled "Pumpkins."

Mrs. Guy Briggs, social chairman, announced a hay ride Saturday, October 13, leaving from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagler at 8 p. m. and members may include guests.

Mrs. Lee Alderman, Mrs. Robert Olinger, Mrs. Guy Briggs and Mrs. Robert H. Allen were appointed to make calls on patients in Memorial Hospital and Rest Homes during the month of October.

Miss Florence Cook was introduced as a member of the committee for the Community Chest

Drive and spoke briefly on the drive and told what the money would be used for and following her talk a substantial contribution was made to this fund.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Floyd West who gave a paper on the subject "Skin Care and Proper Makeup" in which she pointed out that beauty is a habit and she emphasized "be faithful to your beauty and health habits and listed four types of skin, dry, oily, combination and normal."

She also described treatment for each condition of the skin, and gave never-never rules for skin care. Among the most important are never scrub the face with a cloth, never leave soap on the face, and never rinse with a face cloth.

She closed with the admonition "never grow complacent in skin care" and explained the care in choosing cosmetics for the different types of makeup.

At the close of the program the hostess was assisted by Mrs. James DeWeese, in the serving of a tempting dessert course.

Teachers Plan For Open House

OEA Convention Delegate Named

Plans for an open house at the five elementary schools on Oct. 29 and at the junior and senior high schools on Nov. 1 were outlined at Monday afternoon's meeting of the Washington C. H. Teachers Assn.

This meeting, the first of four scheduled for the school year, was held in the Little Theater of the high school after school.

Stanley Johnson, the new president, conducted the meeting at which several committees and committee chairmen were named.

Miss Gladys Nelson heads the publicity committee which is in charge of the Community Chest solicitation. Others on the committee are Mrs. Kathleen Scott, Mrs. Sally Hagerty, Edwin Nestor, Charles Grover and R. E. Parrell of the high school faculty, and Mrs. Jocelyn B. Harper of Central, Prin. Earl Miller of Cherry Hill, Mrs. Louella Campbell of Eastside, Mrs. Frances Neff of Rose Avenue and Miss Marie Hughes of Sunnyside.

Johnson was elected to represent the association as its delegate to the Ohio Education Assn. meeting in Cincinnati in December and Hugh Rea was named the alternate.

Supt. W. A. Smith, the principal, speaker of the meeting, told the teachers about the building program for which a $645,000 bond issue is to be voted on at the Nov. 6 election and the 2.5 - mill levy for operating expenses which is to be voted on at the same time.

Elks District Deputy Here Wednesday

Washington C. H. Elks will be hosts Wednesday night to Franklin A. Wurster, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the Southwest Ohio district, who will make an official inspection of the lodge here.

A class of candidates will be inducted during the annual visitation ceremony which will begin at 8 p. m.

The district deputy, a resident of Sidney, will check operations of the lodge, review the officers and will outline goals of the Grand Lodge and the state association during an address to the membership. He also will act as an official during the initiation ceremony.

Refreshments will be served at an informal reception following the lodge meeting.

People... Places... and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

That Logan Elm seedling on the Fayette County Courthouse lawn is showing more and more characteristics of the mother tree in Logan Elm State Park, six miles south of Circleville.

The little Logan Elms started by the State Conservation Department were distributed to the school superintendents of the state, and one was allocated to the county and placed on the north lawn of the Courthouse where it was planted some 10 years ago.

The branches, already with a 20 foot spread, are continuing to reach out each year, like those of the famous tree of which it is an offspring.

OLD ART HALL

I wonder how many remember the old octagonal Art Hall which for a great many years was one of the main buildings on the Fayette County Fairgrounds, and where each year the choice exhibits of needlework and a variety of other articles were exhibited and admired?

The old Art Hall stood about 100 feet south of the present Merchants Building, and had four doorways, as I recall.

It was a pretty crude structure, with wide pine boards nailed to the framework for outer walls, and no finish inside. The floor was of pine boards some 10 inches in width, and display cases were placed against the walls and around the central portion of the room, which was about 30 feet in diameter.

It was one of the first buildings erected on the "new" fairgrounds and it was torn away some 20 years ago, about the time the Merchants Building was built.

MORE CORN PICKING

The recent good weather has done much to cure the ripening corn to a point where more and more farmers are starting the work of picking their crop, although it will be 10 days before much of the corn will be sufficiently dry to permit cribbing without danger of spoilage.

Some good yields are being reported as the work of picking gets under way, indicating that for the most part the crop is about normal, except where wet weather interfered earlier in the season.

PEAT BOG IN COUNTY

So far as I am aware, there is just one peat bog in Fayette County, and that is on the crossroad leading north at the Eymann land on the Chillicothe Rd.

The bog is located immediately north of the Chillicothe highway, or Route 35, and while much of it has long been nothing but a bog wallow, there still is some peat moss in the bog. However the deposit was never extensive, and never utilized by reason of being mixed with a great deal of black soil.

In years gone by, some of the rarest flowers in Ohio grew in the bog, including the narrow leaf fringed gentian, reported only in two or three other counties in Ohio. The township road leading northward from Route 35 passes through the bog, and it required considerable filling when the road was built, to obtain a solid roadbed.

JACOB WEISER HERE

Jacob Weiser, former executive secretary and manager of the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge in Washington C. H. for several years, was in the city Monday for a short visit with friends.

He is now secretary and manager of the Moose Lodge in London, and is very proud of an honor recently bestowed upon him by the Supreme Lodge. It is the Pilgrim Degree of Merit, which is awarded to approximately one member in 10,000, and comes as a reward for outstanding work in the Moose Lodge generally.

Retirements Noted

WASHINGTON — The Civil Service Commission estimates that approximately 2,698 federal employees in Ohio will retire during the next 12 months under the higher annuities authorized by Congress earlier this year.

AP Guesspert Makes Another Grid Prediction

He Is Same Fellow
Who Picked Cincinnati
To Win NL Pennant

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—While studying these predicted winners of this weekend's football games, just remember that the forecaster is the same chap who picked Cincinnati to win the National League pennant.

Last week's lack of upsets lifted the season's total to 66 of 81 for 815.

This week's winners:
Oklahoma over Kansas State: By as much as the Sooners want to make it.

Michigan State over Michigan: It will be close but the belief is the Spartans will take it, perhaps by only a point.

Ohio State over Stanford: Hopalong Cassidy is gone but the Ohio State stars supposedly are stronger than ever.

Mississippi over Houston: Mississippi has 24 of last year's Cotton Bowl champions.

Texas Christian over Arkansas: Jim Swink carries the Texas Horned Frogs to victory in full view of a nationwide TV audience.

Tennessee over Duke: Johnny Majors is rated the best running back in Dixie. He plays for Tennessee.

Southern California over Wisconsin: The Trojans give the Pacific Coast Conference a rare triumph over the Big Ten.

Pittsburgh over California: Joe Walton, Pitt end, one of the country's best.

Army over Penn State: Each team will rely on sophomores. The Cadets will have to do without Gene Mikelonis, speedy halfback.

South Carolina over North Carolina: The South Carolina line makes the Gamecocks the favorites.

Baylor over Maryland: By the narrowest of margins.

UCLA over Oregon: Oregon had to hustle last week to beat Idaho by a single touchdown.

Skipping over the others:
EAST: Navy over Cornell, Colgate over Holy Cross, Dartmouth over Penn, Princeton over Columbia, Yale over Brown, Harvard over Tufts.

SOUTH: Vanderbilt over Alabama, Auburn over Furman, Virginia Tech over Florida State, Florida over Kentucky, Georgia over Mississippi State, Virginia Military over Richmond, Wake Forest over Virginia, Clemson over North Carolina State, William & Mary over Boston University, The Citadel over Seton.

MIDWEST: Iowa over Oregon State, Colorado over Kansas, Minnesota over Purdue, Southern Methodist over Missouri, Nebraska over Iowa State, Northwestern over Tulane, Notre Dame over Indiana, Tulsa over Marquette, Oklahoma A & M over Wichita.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Louisiana State, Texas A & M over Texas Tech, West Virginia over Texas, Texas Western over New Mexico, Illinois over Washington, Utah over Brigham Young, Arizona over Utah State, Washington State over Idaho, College of Pacific over Cincinnati.

Longshot Pacer Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—Shanty Queen, a 14-1 longshot pacer, scored an upset victory in a photo finish of the featured sixth race Tuesday night at Lebanon Raceway.

The 8-year-old brown mare, owned by Ray Rankin of Foster, broke third at the start and held that spot to the stretch. Then she made her bid, getting past Bonnie Sue Counselor by a nose at the finish. Bonnie is owned by Everett Brown of Blanchester.

In the co-featured seventh race, Buckeye Midge, a 5-year-old brown mare owned by Earl Ewers of Fredericktown, put on a burst of speed in the stretch that carried her from second place to a two-length victory at the wire.

School Activity Increase Urged

COLUMBUS (AP)—Schools must schedule extra curricular activities to combat juvenile delinquency, says E. A. Robertson.

He is secretary of the educational department, Columbia Union Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists. He spoke Tuesday at a session of the church's annual teachers convention of the Ohio and West Virginia conferences.

Stengel Lines Up Pitchers For Next Series Contests

BROOKLYN (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel was confident lefthander Whitey Ford could take care of Brooklyn's Dodgers in today's World Series opener at Ebbets Field and hoped "our younger pitchers can profit by the mistakes they made last year" to carry his New York Yankees the rest of the way.

Ford, 28, a stubby southpaw who won 19 during the regular American League season, made his sixth series start today, but only his second in Ebbets Field, the chummy Brooklyn ballplayer with close-in left field stands that usually make it tough for a lefthander against the Dodgers' right-handed hitting power.

Stengel set up righthander Don Larsen, southpaw Tommy Byrne and righthander Tom Sturdivant behind Ford in the starting rotation. It wasn't a definite pitching plan, but it probably will stand.

Larsen (11-5), was a loser a year ago. Byrne (7-3) teamed with Ford to gain the Yankees' three victories as the Dodgers took the World Championship in seven games in '55. Sturdivant (16-8) worked in relief last fall, totaling only three innings in two games.

"It all depends on how hot that club (the Dodgers) is," said Casey. "I understand they're going pretty good right now. I don't want to criticize the other clubs."

"But my bench is gone. I mean it's not like I had (Johnny) Mize to go up there and hit."

"My bench? My bench is gone. Sure, there's (Joe) Collins, and Coleman and (Elston) Howard and (Bob) Cerv. Collins gives me a pinchhitter or a first baseman or an outfielder. And Coleman I can use in the infield and maybe as a hitter. Howard's been sick, in the hospital with that throat and may be weak. Cerv's come through. I mean he's hit some of 'em almost out of sight and I wouldn't be afraid to play him at Ebbets Field where they could be home runs."

Lions in Tough Workout for Greenfield

Bang-Up Scrimmage
Conducted under
Real Game Conditions

It was like the real thing Tuesday afternoon at Gardner Park Field as the Washington C. H. Lions' red and blue squads banged away at each for a full hour with all the stops out.

Sal Maglie's Confidence High Before Start of First Game

BROOKLYN (AP)—Grim-faced Sal Maglie, the oldest pitcher ever to start a World Series game, stared out at Ebbets Field today before taking the mound against the New York Yankees.

"I'm raring to go," said the 39-year-old castoff of two major league teams. "The only reason that I had any doubts about my ability to pitch the opener was that I was terribly tired after that tough game last Saturday and I didn't know how long it would take for me to recuperate."

Maglie is a real professional in the serious business of winning ball games and he doesn't get excited easily. He approaches his task from strictly a clinical viewpoint.

What about the Yanks?
"They must have a good ball club to win the pennant so easily," he reflected. "But still they aren't as good as the 1951 team."

That was the club that beat him when he was a mainstay on the New York Giants staff.

Manager Walt Alston chimed in that there could be no other choice than Maglie, assuming the ancient "Barber" felt right.

"Not only has he been my stopper," commented Alston, "but something else to remember is that he has the low, breaking stuff that we need to stop the Yanks."

Having decided to go along with Sandy Amoros in left field, Al-

AP Guesspert Makes Another Grid Prediction

He Is Same Fellow
Who Picked Cincinnati
To Win NL Pennant

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—While studying these predicted winners of this weekend's football games, just remember that the forecaster is the same chap who picked Cincinnati to win the National League pennant.

Last week's lack of upsets lifted the season's total to 66 of 81 for .815.

This week's winners:
Oklahoma over Kansas State:
By as much as the Sooners want to make it.

Michigan State over Michigan:
It will be close but the belief is the Spartans will take it, perhaps by only a point.

Ohio State over Stanford:
Hop-along Cassidy is gone but the Ohio State stars supposedly are stronger than ever.

Mississippi over Houston:
Mississippi has 24 of last year's Cotton Bowl champions.

Texas Christian over Arkansas:
Jim Swink carries the Texas Horned Frogs to victory in full view of a nationwide TV audience.

Tennessee over Duke:
Johnny Majors is rated the best running back in Dixie. He plays for Tennessee.

Southern California over Wisconsin:
The Trojans give the Pacific Coast Conference a rare triumph over the Big Ten.

Pittsburgh over California:
Joe Walton, Pitt end, one of the country's best.

Army over Penn State:
Each team will rely on sophomores. The Cadets will have to do without Gene Mikelonis, speedy halfback.

South Carolina over North Carolina:
The Gamecocks the favorites.

Baylor over Maryland:
By the narrowest of margins.

UCLA over Oregon:
Oregon had to hustle last week to beat Idaho by a single touchdown.

Skipping over the others:
EAST: Navy over Cornell, Colgate over Holy Cross, Dartmouth over Penn, Princeton over Columbia, Yale over Brown, Harvard over Tufts.

SOUTH: Vanderbilt over Alabama, Auburn over Furman, Virginia Tech over Florida State, Florida over Kentucky, Georgia over Mississippi State, Virginia Military over Richmond, Wake Forest over Virginia, Clemson over North Carolina State, William & Mary over Boston University, The Citadel over Sietson.

MIDWEST: Iowa over Oregon State, Colorado over Kansas, Minnesota over Purdue, Southern Methodist over Missouri, Nebraska over Iowa State, Northwestern over Tulane, Notre Dame over Indiana, Tulsa over Marquette, Oklahoma A & M over Wichita.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Louisiana State, Texas A & M over Texas Tech, West Virginia over Texas, Texas Western over New Mexico, Illinois over Washington, Utah over Brigham Young, Arizona over Utah State, Washington State over Idaho, College of Pacific over Cincinnati.

Longshot Pacer
Wins at Lebanon

LEBANON (AP)—Shanty Queen, a 14-1 longshot pacer, scored an upset victory in a photo finish of the featured sixth race Tuesday night at Lebanon Raceway.

The 8-year-old brown mare, owned by Ray Rankin of Foster, broke third at the start and held that spot to the stretch. Then she made her bid, getting past Bonnie Sue Counselor by a nose at the finish. Bonnie is owned by Everett Brown of Blanchester.

In the co-featured seventh race, Buckeye Midge, a 5-year-old brown mare owned by Earl Ewers of Fredericktown, put on a burst of speed in the stretch that carried her from second place to a two-length victory at the wire.

School Activity
Increase Urged

COLUMBUS (AP)—Schools must schedule extra curricular activities to combat juvenile delinquency, says E. A. Robertson.

He is secretary of the educational department, Columbia Union Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists. He spoke Tuesday at a session of the church's annual teachers convention of the Ohio and West Virginia conferences.

Stengel Lines Up Pitchers For Next Series Contests

BROOKLYN (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel was confident lefthander Whitey Ford could take care of Brooklyn's Dodgers in today's World Series opener at Ebbets Field and hoped "our younger pitchers can profit by the mistakes they made last year" to carry his New York Yankees the rest of the way.

Ford, 28, a stubby southpaw who won 19 during the regular American League season, made his sixth series start today, but only his second in Ebbets Field, the chummy Brooklyn ballplayer with close-in left field stands that usually make it tough for a lefthander against the Dodgers' right-handed hitting power.

Stengel set up righthander Don Larsen, southpaw Tommy Byrne and righthander Tom Sturdivant behind Ford in the starting rotation. It wasn't a definite pitching plan, but it probably will stand.

Larsen (11-5), was a loser a year ago. Byrne (7-3) teamed with Ford to gain the Yankees' three victories as the Dodgers took the World Championship in seven games in '55. Sturdivant (16-8) worked in relief last fall, totaling only three innings in two games.

"It all depends on how hot that club (the Dodgers) is," said Casey. "I understand they're going pretty good right now. I don't want to criticize the other clubs."

Ike's Letter

On Baseball Bared

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—There's a letter in the Eisenhower Museum about getting into a baseball game without benefit of ticket.

Young Ike was on the 1908 Abilene High School baseball team. On Oct. 21 that year he wrote to Orin Snider, a former coach:

"We play Junction City Saturday. I want to see you there. I will run some bluff to get you in the game free."

"atrocious" while Beecham pointed out that, even so, "it sure was unanimous."

The New York Yankees, who have won 16 World Series, met the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first game of the 1956 series today.

Beecham Favored To Trip Constance

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Up-and-coming Jimmy Beecham makes his television debut against ringwise Hector Constance tonight in a 10-round welterweight fight for the Babe Zaharias Cancer Foundation.

The Philadelphia 21-year-old probably will be a slight favorite, mainly because he beat Constance, 25, last December in a match at Caracas, Venezuela.

The loser called that decision.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Swine Breeders Back Research Center for Area

Group Urges Efforts
To Get Installation
For WCH District

The possibility of locating a meat animal research center in Southern Ohio was outlined Tuesday night at a meeting of directors of the Fayette County Swine Breeders' and Feeders Assn. at Anderson's Drive In.

The potentials of such a state installation were discussed and it was suggested that Fayette County residents interested in the livestock industry contact their legislative representative, in an effort to bring the center into Fayette or some neighboring county.

The value of such a research center in a livestock-producing area such as Fayette County was stressed, and it was pointed out that grain growers as well as producers of meat animals would benefit.

THE 12 SWINE ASSN. directors present at the meeting, heard reports from Harry Craig and Arleigh Rankin who attended the Swine Day event at Wooster Sept. 22.

They explained that experiments with over-fat hogs (200 - 300 pounds) show that an extra 100 pounds of weight above the preferred marketing weight of around 200 pounds not only increases the pork supply but the extra expense of feeding is not economic from the standpoint of the producer. Heavier hogs are not in demand and animals should be marketed around the 200-220 bracket, it was observed.

A principal topic of discussion was the Fayette County Swine Tour, to be held in December this year in order that interested farmers may observe the winter management of swine, with emphasis on winter feeding and farrowing. The tour committee is composed of Joe Fisher, chairman; Vincent McKee, Ted Kneisley and Robert McFadden. The tour date is Dec. 6.

Plans also were announced for the spring barrow show at the Madison County Fairgrounds in London on Feb. 23.

GOP Women's Club Enrolls 218 Members

The brisk membership campaign effort made by the Fayette County Women's Republican Club and completed Tuesday, proved successful in reaching slightly more than the quota of 215 set.

The report made Wednesday morning showed that the present total is 218 members with indications of more to come.

This entitles the Fayette County organization to nine delegates and nine alternates at the Republican Women's Club conference to be held at the Neil House in Columbus Oct. 8.

Miss Garnet Huston, president and other officers of the county organization declare that all other Republican women who desire to join will be cordially welcome. Every precinct in Fayette County is to be represented in the club.

Other women interested in becoming members of the organization and who have not been contacted may call Miss Garnet Huston (22032), Mrs. Dwight Bell (43164) or Mrs. Charles Lutz (32941).

Further Plans For Boys' Choir Announced

Further plans for organization of a Fayette County Boys' Choir, modeled after the famous Dayton organization, were announced Wednesday, and Mrs. Robert E. Willis, who will act as director of the group, said that the first concert is planned sometime during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baer have agreed to act as assistants in formation of the choir. Baer will serve as treasurer and Mrs. Baer will assist Mrs. Willis.

Tryouts will be conducted next Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p. m. on the third floor of Memorial Hall where future practice sessions will be held each Tuesday and Thursday at the same hour.

BOYS AND YOUNG men from 9 to 25 years who like to sing are urged to report for the tryouts. It was emphasized that many potentially good voices are developed in choral work and an interest in singing is a primary qualification. "This is an opportunity to belong to one of the finest musical organizations known," Mrs. Willis said, adding that parents should consider the value of such a choral group.

The choir season will be from October through May and basic training will be in religious music although the choir will also sing secular and popular numbers.

A number of local organizations have shown an interest in the program, Mrs. Willis said. The director and her assistants will serve without pay, but boys who are accepted for membership will receive a small transportation fee each week.

Sheriff in Columbus For Double Purpose

Sheriff Orland Hays was in Columbus Wednesday to attend a meeting of the trustees of the Buckeye Sheriffs Assn. and to continue his investigation into the disappearance of some $9,100 from the activities fund of Washington C. H. High School.

The board of trustees, of which he is a member, meets monthly to discuss the progress of the association's program. But at this meeting Sheriff Hays said, most of the time is to be devoted to polishing up plans for the annual state convention Dec. 6.

Of his investigation into the disappearance of the school activities fund money, the sheriff had little to say, other than that he is still looking for the missing funds and someone who knows something about the disappearance.

Just before he left, Sheriff Hays said the three teen-age boys he had brought back from Edmonton, Ky., along with a car stolen from Harold Wilson in Staunton, were still in jail here. He said the mother of one of the boys called him Tuesday evening and asked that he be released to her on her promise that she would see that he was taken before the Juvenile Court in Akron, where he was under parole. Hays said he refused the request.

It may be two or three days before the boys are taken before Juvenile Court here, he said.

Benson Defending Farm Policies

HUNTLEY, Ill. — Secretary of Agriculture Benson, striking back sharply at critics, said today the Eisenhower administration has taken "more constructive action for the benefit of the family farm than has any previous administration in years."

Public Park Gets Major Boost from Chest Funds

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of stories on agencies served by the Fayette County Community Chest. The series is presented by the Record-Herald in the public interest, since the Community Chest, whose annual fund appeal will get under way within the next few days, is a vital factor in our community life.

All summer long thousands of children and adults have used and enjoyed the facilities of the public park, located across Oakland Ave. in front of the swimming pool.

Each Sunday during the summer months the park has been packed with family reunions and picnics, and every day the playground equipment is used by the children of the community. All of the teams in the newly formed Babe Ruth baseball leagues used the park's diamonds for their games, with other ball games being played on Sunday afternoons. The park is open to everyone and more people are using it than ever before.

The public park is one of the 10 local agencies included in this month's Community Chest campaign in Fayette County, with its share of the funds being used for the repair and maintenance of the park, and the purchase of new equipment.

A LARGE SHARE of the park funds goes to pay for the services of Thomas F. Cherry, who works at the park during the summer season, keeping the shelter house and picnic area clean, the several acres of grass mowed, and the hundred and one other tasks of maintenance work.

The remainder of the money is used to buy equipment and other permanent improvements which can be enjoyed by all those using the park.

Under the direction of the Recreation Commission and its chairman, Richard Waters, the park has grown over the years and its prospects for the future are bright. It has been a real community project with groups and individuals from all over Washington C. H. and Fayette County lending a hand.

City street crews and other workmen from the county and state road departments played an important part in grading the field, dredging Paint Creek and the many other jobs which needed heavy equipment and lots of manpower.

Service clubs such as the Washington Lions Club have helped in the addition of the shelter house; and this past summer the Washington C. H. Jaycees completed a major project in the construction of the new comfort station. Garden clubs have helped in the landscaping to make the park more beautiful.

Contributions to the 1956 Community Chest campaign will help keep the public park available for use in the years to come, doing its part in making Fayette County a happier, healthier, better place in which to live.

The 1956 Community Chest includes the Red Cross, and is a united campaign which eliminates ten individual campaigns. It has one challenging goal — $23,500 — which is almost twice that raised by the Red Feather fund drive last year.

false and absurd are the charges that this administration is guilty of selling short our family farms," the secretary said in a speech prepared for the dedication of the Thor Research Center near here. Equipment improvements have brought problems and changes to farms but they have not changed "our traditional system of family-operated farms," Benson said.

City Battles Double Parking

Are you a double-parker? If you are, you'd better change your ways. With a constant increase in traffic on city streets, double parking is becoming a more and more serious violation in Washington C. H.

And police are going to break up the practice.

City Manager James F. Parkinson points out that traffic studies show double parking is next to speeding as a cause of accidents and miscellaneous hazards to life and limb. Obviously it is the prime cause of congestion on city streets.

Police are ready to reemphasize the seriousness of what might seem at first glance to be a minor violation. It's against the law, whether or not you see a sign forbidding it. "We're going to break it up, and no favorites will be played," Parkinson said.

Normally a driver ticketed for double parking pays his dollar at the police station. But police can, if they wish, prepare an affidavit which would send the offender into Municipal Court. And improper parking carries a maximum fine of $50-plus costs—if the judge wants to be tough about it.

Farmer Killed

MEDINA — Lester Hatzell, 32, was killed Tuesday when his farm tractor overturned on his farm two miles south of nearby Brunswick. He was hauling a trailer load of wood from a field to his house, when the load shifted and upset both tractor and trailer.

The organ was imported to the United States from England about 1713.

W. Temple, Draper Get New Surfacing

Improvement of W. Temple St. and Draper St. from Temple to Leeburg Ave. was completed Tuesday, according to City Manager James F. Parkinson.

Application of hot-mix asphaltic material to the streets is part of a major street improvement program undertaken by the city this year. City crews are preparing the base for each project, and the Blue Rock Paving Co. is applying the surfacing material.

The Temple - Draper improvement provides a convenient "back way" from the west side of the city to the downtown area and, by using the east section of Temple St. which recently received a new surface, to Memorial Hospital.

The Draper - Temple route avoids the awkward three-way intersection on W. Court St. as well as the Court St. congestion.

Parkinson pointed out that the Draper - Temple route is of particular advantage for emergency runs from the west to Memorial Hospital.

LANCASTER — George A. Eaton, 63, chief engineer for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. here, was killed Tuesday when a crane on a tractor broke loose and struck him.

Boosters Club To View Films

The Washington Boosters Club will hold its regular meeting in the American Legion Hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday with films of the Lions-St. Charles game occupying the top spot on the program.

Head Coach Fred Domenico and members of his staff will provide the commentary on the game movies.

A committee in charge of plans for the annual football banquet is expected to report at the meeting. Tentative date for the banquet is Monday, Nov. 19, although this is subject to change.

Swine Breeders Back Research Center for Area

Group Urges Efforts To Get Installation For WCH District

The possibility of locating a meat animal research center in Southern Ohio was outlined Tuesday night at a meeting of directors of the Fayette County Swine Breeders and Feeders Assn., at Anderson's Drive In.

The potentials of such a state installation were discussed and it was suggested that Fayette County residents interested in the livestock industry contact their legislative representative in an effort to bring the center into Fayette or some neighboring county.

The value of such a research center in a livestock-producing area such as Fayette County was stressed, and it was pointed out that grain growers as well as producers of meat animals would benefit.

THE 12 SWINE ASSN. directors present at the meeting, heard reports from Harry Craig and Arleigh Rankin who attended the Swine Day event at Wooster Sept. 22.

They explained that experiments with over-fat hogs (200 - 300 pounds) show that an extra 100 pounds of weight above the preferred marketing weight of around 200 pounds not only increases the pork supply but the extra expense of feeding is not economic from the standpoint of the producer. Heavier hogs are not in demand and animals should be marketed around the 200-220 bracket, it was observed.

A principal topic of discussion was the Fayette County Swine Tour, to be held in December this year in order that interested farmers may observe the winter management of swine, with emphasis on winter feeding and farrowing. The tour committee is composed of Joe Fisher, chairman; Vincent McKee, Ted Knisley and Robert McKadden. The tour date is Dec. 6.

Plans also were announced for the spring barrow show at the Madison County Fairgrounds in London on Feb. 23.

GOP Women's Club Enrolls 218 Members

The brisk membership campaign effort made by the Fayette County Women's Republican Club and completed Tuesday, proved successful in reaching slightly more than the quota of 215 set.

The report made Wednesday morning showed that the present total is 218 members with indications of more to come.

This entitles the Fayette County organization to nine delegates and nine alternates at the Republican Women's Club conference to be held at the Neil House in Columbus Oct. 8.

Miss Garnet Huston, president and other officers of the county organization declare that all other Republican women who desire to join will be cordially welcome. Every precinct in Fayette County is to be represented in the club.

Other women interested in becoming members of the organization and who have not been contacted may call Miss Garnet Huston (22032), Mrs. Dwight Bell (43164) or Mrs. Charles Lutz (32941).

France owns two small rocky islands, St. Pierre and Miquelon, off the southern coast of Newfoundland.

Further Plans For Boys' Choir Announced

Further plans for organization of a Fayette County Boys' Choir, modeled after the famous Dayton organization, were announced Wednesday, and Mrs. Robert E. Willis, who will act as director of the group, said that the first concert is planned sometime during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baer have agreed to act as assistants in formation of the choir. Baer will serve as treasurer and Mrs. Baer will assist Mrs. Willis.

Tryouts will be conducted next Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p. m. on the third floor of Memorial Hall where future practice sessions will be held each Tuesday and Thursday at the same hour.

BOYS AND YOUNG men from 9 to 25 years who like to sing are urged to report for the tryouts. It was emphasized that many potentially good voices are developed in choral work and an interest in singing is a primary qualification.

"This is an opportunity to belong to one of the finest musical organizations known," Mrs. Willis said, adding that parents should consider the value of such a choral group.

The choir season will be from October through May and basic training will be in religious music although the choir will also sing secular and popular numbers.

A number of local organizations have shown an interest in the program, Mrs. Willis said.

The director and her assistants will serve without pay, but boys who are accepted for membership will receive a small transportation fee each week.

Sheriff in Columbus For Double Purpose

Sheriff Orland Hays was in Columbus Wednesday to attend a meeting of the trustees of the Buckeye Sheriffs Assn. and to continue his investigation into the disappearance of some $9,100 from the activities fund of Washington C. H. High School.

The board of trustees, of which he is a member, meets monthly to discuss the progress of the association's program. But at this meeting Sheriff Hays said, most of the time is to be devoted to polishing up plans for the annual state convention Dec. 6.

Of his investigation into the disappearance of the school activities fund money, the sheriff had little to say, other than that he is still looking for the missing funds and someone who knows something about the disappearance.

Just before he left, Sheriff Hays said the three teen-age boys he had brought back from Edmonton, Ky., along with a car stolen from Harold Wilson in Staunton, were still in jail here. He said the mother of one of the boys called him Tuesday evening and asked that he be released to her on her promise that she would see that he was taken before the Juvenile Court in Akron, where he was under parole.

Hays said he refused the request. It may be two or three days before the boys are taken before Juvenile Court here, he said.
